

MAYOR AND COUNCIL WRANGLE OVER WHO SHALL BE ACTING FIRE CHIEF OF THIS CITY

Monday Night Council Reinstates Ziglar, Firemen Went On Strike, Rollins Reinstated—Tuesday, Council Reinstated Ziglar While Mayor Puts Rollins Back on Job.

Gen Esch, Chairman of Fire Commission, discharging of the entire Fire Department by the City Council, and statement explaining his position reinstatement by them.—Members of Council seek Mayor Joe Baker, members of the Council sought the advice of Col. T. M. Espy, the well known Dothan lawyer.

"HOLDING THE FORT."

- At the hour of going to press, the following firemen acting under orders of Mayor Joe Baker, are "holding the fort" at the fire station: Joe Rollins, acting fire chief; Rob Howell, automobile truck driver; firemen Jim Turner, Jim Bonner and Floyd George.
- P. S.—Other changes may take place by sun down.

When queried over the telephone shortly after 2 o'clock, Col. Espy admitted that the question had been submitted to him, and upon being asked what steps he had advised the Council to take, Col. Espy said that he had not yet reached a decision. It is very likely that the Council will be governed largely by the advice of the lawyer, whose services were sought.

Differences of opinion between the new City Council and Mayor Joe Baker as to how the Dothan Fire Department should be operated, or at least by whom, has provoked one

MEN WHO ARE DIRECTING MILLIONS OF UNITS IN THE GREAT WAR

FRENCH ISSUES A STATEMENT OF PROGRESS

Paris, Nov. 17.—The following official statement was issued this afternoon:

"At Neuport, Dixmude and in the region of Ypres cannonade is more violent. Our artillery stopped German works intended to stop inundation. Water drove the enemy from some of his trenches. Two attacks by the enemy south of Ypres and Dixschote repulsed. We made marked progress between Dixschote and the canal and between Armentieres and Labasse.

"Small German forces attempting to cross the Aisne near Vailly were thrown back or destroyed. Our positions on the right bank of the Aisne and in the region of Rheims were violently cannonaded. Some shells fell on Rheims. No infantry engagements in the Argonne region. We blew up some German trenches there with mines. South of Verdun we have advanced at several points. At St. Mihiel we have captured buildings used by the enemy as barracks. Nothing to report on rest of the front."

THEY ALL DEMAND IT.

Dothan, Like Every Other City and Town in the Union, Receives It. People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is Dothan evidence of their merit.

L. E. Holliman, carpenter, 716 S. Appletree street, Dothan, says: "I suffered for five or six years from my kidneys. Severe pain in the small of my back gave me a whole lot of trouble when bending or lifting. The kidney secretions were always too frequent in passage and highly colored. I used various remedies, but didn't get any better. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I have never had any trouble since."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Holliman had. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 21

TRADING IN COTTON IS QUIET TODAY

New York, Nov. 17.—Trading in cotton today was quiet, but steady. Spot houses did the best buying. There is evidence that Wall Street is accumulating long cotton.

A BUNCH OF AMAZING TRAINED ANIMALS

The trained animal acts to be seen with the great Sun Brothers' World's Progressive Shows this season are a distinct feature, and conceded to be the very greatest and most novel ever devised. The wonderful elephants "broke" and handled by Cheerful Gardner, the famous German elephant man, are among the principal headlines in this ensemble. Gardner is an expert elephant handler. In speaking of the habits of the big beasts, he says that the elephant's bath is probably one of the most interesting sights to witness. He says, "The elephant's bath takes a week to carry out in every detail. It requires the services of three men and it costs $300." This treatment is necessary for a show elephant, and if the animal is a valuable one, the proprietor of the show does not consider the money wasted. The first process consists of going over the immense body with the best soap procurable. 150 pounds of soap is used, and the elephant's ears are especially attended to. When the washing and drying are completed, the elephant is well sand-papered, and after that rubbed all over with the purest Indian oil until the mouse grey skin is supple and glistening.

This last finishing touch is the most expensive part of the whole bath, as $150 has to be spent on the oil alone. During the engagements here of Sun Brothers' Shows, Gardner's elephants will be seen in complete acts, afternoon and night. The date is Thursday, November 26th, at Dothan.

OPERATIONS OF BRITISH FORCES ARE DESCRIBED

London, Nov. 17.—The official narrative describing operations of British forces on November 11, 12, and 13, was issued today. It admits the Germans gained near Ypres but failed to capture that town. At Amiens heavy losses but admit: "We have the satisfaction of knowing we foiled the enemy in his main object and have inflicted greater loss than we have suffered."

SERBIANS LOSE HEAVILY

Vienna, Nov. 17.—The capture of eight thousand Serbians, forty-two cannon and thirty nine machine guns is announced in official dispatches from the front which state that Austrians have captured Valjevo and Obrenovac, two important Serbian towns.

ONE MAN'S ENOUGH.

The city of Dothan needs but one man to run the town, and the habit it has of electing nine aldermen is a nucleus one. All that is necessary is to elect a mayor who wants the power of a czar, and who will have it. Seven councilmen thought they knew what they wanted in the first department scrap, but one man says he wants something else. He has the effrontery to tell the seven men they don't know what's good for them, or the people they represent. If there is no law to shear him of some of his power, then we need some new laws. In fact, it is a waste of money and energy to elect a council. Better just let one man run it, since he is able to do so anyway.

The only relief appears to be to take another long shot, and get commission form of government. When the first commissioners have then been appointed, the present mayor would have to be one. Then on occasions like the present, if enough people differ with his honor, he could be "canned" and another man elected in his place. It couldn't possibly be any worse than it is. There would be some chance of its being better, unless the mayor changed his mind about running the town absolutely, without regard to the desires of the council.

GERMANY DID NOT REFUSE BELGIAN AID

Berlin, November 17.—The government today issued a formal denial of published reports that Germany had refused American aid for Belgium.

Ambassador von Bernstorff was instructed to tell the Washington government that Germany is pleased with the efforts to relieve the Belgian citizens.

PRESIDENT IS PLEASED WITH COTTON SITUATION

Washington, Nov. 17.—President Wilson expressed optimism on the cotton situation today. He cited prices on the Cotton Exchange and pointed out that they were no lower than at several times in previous years.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE LIGHTS?

What's making the lights breathe so hard these nights? For several nights they have gone on and off, as if it were time to look up the oil lamps, as of old, but it would apparently think better

RUSSIAN LOSS IS CAUSE OF GREAT ANXIETY

Petrograd, Nov. 17.—Official admission that German operations from Thora had made a sudden invasion through the Vistula valley and reached Plock caused considerable uneasiness until an army messenger announced that the Germans had been decisively checked and compelled to fall back on their bases. It is stated they suffered a heavy loss.

While the war office maintains that Russians are successful everywhere against the Austro-Germans, the situation on the Caucasian frontier is causing great anxiety, principally because of the official admission that the Russians have been driven from Koprikt which they took at a heavy sacrifice of men. Success of the Turks shows they had fully prepared for hostilities.

TENNESSEAN REACHES AHA.

Athens, Nov. 17.—The American cruiser Tennessee has arrived at Vuris, Asia Minor. Her arrival is expected to lessen attacks on citizens of allied powers.

TRADE AT HOME—IF YOU CAN

Trade at home has always been The Eagle's advice. It is good because it's right, when all things are equal. We advise the Dothan man to buy of Dothan merchants, and advise the Houston county citizen to come to Dothan to buy, and good many others.

One shouldn't go away from home to buy what can be had at home, if the price is anything like what it should be. Which brings us to the cotton seed question. Ever since the oil mill men have seen fit to run the price as low as they thought when we have advised the farmer not to sell his seed. Some merchants have thought we were not wise in doing this. They wanted the farmer to sell his seed at any price, that he might have a little spending money. One felt this so keenly till his business with the paper materially dropped off on that account.

But there's another side to it. For a few ready dollars now, would one advise the farmer to sell the seed he should plant another year? There is another day coming. When the seed are sold at half price, and below, they must be bought back in the spring, or their equal in fertilizer. Then who's suffering? Who knows what fertilizer is going to sell for?

It is a fool thing to do, to sell cotton seed now at less than half what they should bring, and then have to buy fertilizer at a higher price two months from now. You can't have your cake and eat it too.

Now, for home price. The home buyers have been paying $12 a ton for seed last week. Columbia and Ozark were paying $14 a ton. Why the difference? There should be none. The mills here can pay as much for seed as other places. Can't say anything about freight advantages. A town on both sides paying $2 a ton more than Dothan.

In this instance, we don't care what the trade-at-home man says. If our farmers, our neighbors, our friends, can't get within $2 of what their seed would bring at other points, we say hold them, or sell them to other points. Get all the money they can for their product. Let the farmer get good prices, and we are all benefited. Until the oil mills at Dothan pay as much for seed as other mills are paying, the farmer is foolish to sell a seed. Keep them; they will be worth more later, and if they are not, put them under corn. They are still good fertilizer. But don't forget to inquire prices. Trade when the price is right.

Dothan Needs a Fire Department Chief

There is too much backing and filling in the fire department.

Some time ago Acting Chief Zeigler was discharged and Joe Rollins was installed as chief in his place. This was done by the fire committee, and last night the council re-instated Zeigler, and then Rollins quit, and the other boys at the fire department walked out with him.

This is pure foolishness and it's a good time for the city council to get rid of the whole lot and elect a real fire chief. Zeigler, who has been acting as chief for several months, has never pretended to be a competent fire fighter, but does know how to manage the fire truck.

But this is a good time to wipe out and start with a clean slate.

Dothan doesn't need an inexperienced fire fighter for a chief. It needs a man with years experience to direct the fighting of a fire, and then it needs a competent man to drive the truck and stay by it during a fire.

The thousands of people who stood by and watched the High School building burn till the fire ate through the woodwork of the building, knew then that Dothan needed an experienced head to its fire-fighting department. Zeigler, at that time, spent most of his time running the pumps, which was possibly where he belonged.

People who thought they knew as much about how the fire should have been handled as the boys in charge, know that if they had sealed the roof and cut through, and applied water from the top, that the building wouldn't have suffered $3,000 damage. But it burned for an hour or two, almost uncontrolled.

It is an easy matter to get boys who can train the hose on a certain point when told. It should be the duty of the chief to direct the attack, and an experienced fire-fighter will have no trouble controlling fires, even with inexperienced help, not in a town of this size. But we need a head, a real head—a boss. And then if the boys don't like such a boss, they can walk out. Plenty others can be found to take their place.

There is no earthly use for firemen till a fire breaks out. Then we need them, and they should be men who can be depended upon to do their duty.

Firemen should be required to know just where all inflammable materials are kept in every house in the business district. They should know in what part of the building they are located, and they should go through all buildings weekly, and familiarize themselves with the contents of the building and general arrangement. This information would stand them in good stead when a fire starts. They should keep tab on the different stocks, and should know something of the amount of insurance carried, as when all this information is in the hands of the firemen, they are better prepared. They know better what to expect.

Dothan has too much exposures not to be thoroughly prepared.

It has too much at stake, and it is more important that we have thoroughly reliable men in charge.

The sooner the city council takes things in their own hands, the better the citizens of Dothan will feel about it, and the better it will be to the taxpayer.

HAVE THE DIFFERENCE.

It is said that we will make a 16,000,000 bale crop of cotton. If it averages $30 a bale, it will mean $480,000,000. On the other hand, had we made 14,000,000 bales of cotton, and sold it for $50 a bale, the crop would have brought $700,000,000 or $220,000,000 more than the present crop. Just a difference of 2,000,000 bales, makes a good deal of difference in the price.

It would look as if we might learn sense enough after a while to take care of a situation like this. At these figures, a 16,000,000 bale crop would put it down to where we would have to pay for the kindling out of our corn or hog crop.

Every man must work out his own salvation, in producing cotton; the government isn't able to help him. If every farmer will plant about a third of a crop the coming season, there will be a difference. Say if there was 5,000,000 bales made. It would jump the next year's price up something awful. It will take a third of a crop to work up the surplus before a real row will start for more cotton. They will want it as badly then, as some parts of Germany is wanting cotton now.

The South badly needs the difference. Will we in time get it?

We must get over the habit of looking to our government for so many things. There's nothing like being able to pull yourself out of a hole, especially, when you made the hole, and the conditions surrounding it.

The ultimate consumer always pays the freight. Taxes are tacked on with a view of making the firm or corporation pay them, but they are paid by the man who makes the last purchase.

The little stamp "Made in Germany," won't mean as much in the future as it has in the past. Our people are going to see if they can't make out with American made goods.

There are the times to test one's honesty. If a man cannot pay his debts, he can at least come clean, and make a show-down, and do what is right in the premises.

The general tone of business seems better. Men are being put back to work, and it is likely that business will be in much better shape within the next few days.

At least, the farmer will have the satisfaction of knowing that his corn is bringing in Dothan what it would in any other place.

Meridian, Miss., is in the 'pennant' but, for they caught one on the steps of the city hall in that city some days ago.

MAN, HEIR TO KNOWLEDGE

Columbus Enquirer-Bun.

The man of today is the heir of the accumulated knowledge of all who have gone before him, and there is no power under the sun that can disinherit him save himself.

All that has been handed down by word of mouth or in writing is accessible to every man. It is for him to learn, and if he fails to do so it is his own fault.

The opportunity is his. It was so with the man of yesterday, it is so with the man of today, and it will be with the man of tomorrow, and throughout the ages that are to come.

From the dawn of creation the record has been kept, and this record is open to all. In legend, in story, in song, we have the history of the past, we have all the knowledge that humans have accumulated, and if we have failed to keep pace with the progress of the world, it is because we have failed to learn what has been and what is even now, we have permitted opportunities to go by unimproved.

Man is a being superior to all the other beings of creation. He is endowed with intelligence, and has devised ways and means of accumulating knowledge and to leave it recorded for others to possess themselves of.

That man cannot learn all that has been done in the world since its foundation no one will dispute. He would be superhuman if he could. And yet it does not follow that because of his inability to learn all these things he is not heir to them.

The man who falls heir to a hundred million dollars cannot use all that money for himself alone. He could scarcely count it in a life-time, but it does not follow that because he cannot do these things he is not heir to the riches that have been left him. He uses, therefore, such part of these riches as he may require. The rest is his, however, just as much as if he should use it all.

So it is with the accumulated knowledge of the world. Man is heir to it. He cannot learn it all, but he can learn only a part of it. But because his finite mind is unable to grasp and retain all this knowledge it does not follow that he is not heir to it.

Man's excuse for being ignorant of any given thing is not valid. It is his fault if he is ignorant. The knowledge has been accumulated and it has been preserved for him and for every other man.

With the opportunity that is his the man of tomorrow should know more than the man of today. The man of today has all the experience of all the men in the world upon which to build, and the man of tomorrow will have all that experience and as well as that of the man of today.

And so it will be on and on throughout the ages as long as man shall dwell upon the earth.

He is the heir of the accumulated knowledge of the world and it is his for the learning.

'CHILD' MORTALITY FROM BURNS.

Some months ago The Journal of the American Medical Association commented on the dangers of fire from the use of certain materials for children's clothing especially mentioning a kind of light cotton material known as flannel. The condemnation has been about equally shared by this and other similarly combustible dress materials and the practice of wearing apartments with open unprotected grates, which are apparently more depended on for heating in Great Britain than in our own severer winter climate. The subject has not at any time aroused the attention in this country that it has in Great Britain, nevertheless there cannot be very many physicians who have not had to treat serious burns, generally in children, that may have been caused in such ways. A recent report by the coroner's physician of Brooklyn suggests that the prevention of such accidents deserves more consideration from the medical profession here. He gives as the record for sixteen days in that borough, September 4-20, eighteen fatalities from burns in children, beside three of adults. The average age of the children killed by fire is given by him as between 2 and 5 years. How many not fatal but still serious burns of children occurred can only be conjectured.

OLD BEN K.

There is one consolation: We will not need the mules in this section next spring that we have been buying. We may need them, but they will be shipped to Europe instead of the cotton belt. Most any farmer can find a place to work an extra mule every year, when times are good, but when they are bad, he sees where he can still make out a little longer with old Heck, since there's nothing the matter with old Heck, except she doesn't match old Bill, exactly.

The farmers of this county have spent thousands and thousands of dollars for mules because they figured that they would be able to pay for them another year. Cash down, would sell but few mules. It is that mortgage on next year's crop that makes the mule market.

Most of farmers who keep Missouri farmers rich by buying their mules, could raise them, but they haven't time, since they must raise, or try to raise, a certain number of bales of cotton.

Hundreds of them, who made 20 bales of cotton this year, that brought them $600, will try to raise 40 bales next year thinking it will bring them at least $1200. But it won't. If that twenty bale farmer will set out to raise but ten, it will bring him more money. If the others co-operate but co-operation is a hard thing to get among the farmers therefore, every one must act on his own judgment.

THAT "COLORED GEMMAN."

Emporia (Kan.) Gazette. "Why," asks a hard working intelligent colored man of the Gazette, "do you insult our race by calling the man who called on President Wilson yesterday a colored 'gemman'?"

That is a fair question and deserves a straight answer. The colored man who called on the President the other day lost his temper, talked mean and was impudent to the President of the United States, who is the official head of our country—the country of the white man, the black man, the red man, the brown man and such yellow men as take our citizenship. He did not deserve to be called a gentleman, for he was not one. The Gazette would have held him up to public scorn if he had been Irish, Dutch, New England, Johnnie or Yank, and certainly the fact that he was a negro should not shield him.

When a man goes into the white house to argue that segregation is unnecessary and proves by his own conduct that in his particular case segregation is necessary for him, and all others of whatever skin color or like him, he is no longer a representative of the colored race, and colored men should feel no grievance when he is hooted at. Moreover, whenever any man, black, white or yellow, by his low breeding or vicious nature shows that he is unworthy of respect, no matter how good a cause he may espouse, this paper, for one, will refuse to accord him more respect than his

MINER WAS PRETTY MODEL IN A WEEK

MRS. HENRY CLAY CARR

New York, Nov. 17.—Henry Clay Carr, millionaire Alaska miner and the happiest man in the world, is speeding back to his beloved home in the northwestern peninsula accompanied by the "most beautiful girl in New York," now his bride. She was Miss Dorothy Dunn, model for Christy, Flagg, Holsen and other prominent artists. Mr. Carr and his bride met for the first time on election night when they were introduced by Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wilson, mutual friends. Cupid lost little time in launching his darts and the engagement of the couple was announced within three days after their first meeting. Mrs. Carr was originally a western girl. She is the daughter of State Senator Dunn of Minnesota.

A MAN OF HONOR AND HIS CREDITORS

(Quoted from Pictorial Review—December, 1914.)
Charlotte Perkins Gilman, the well-known philosopher, publishes in Pictorial Review for December an article entitled "Honor—His and Hers," discussing the difficulties in making parallels meet. We quote as follows:

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappel, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mr. Alby, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappel of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good. I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it.

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, dizziness, nervousness, and last, but not least, tired feeling?

I do, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We have confidence it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past few years.

Another vivid instance of the working of this code is in the attitude of a man of honor toward his creditors.

He owes money, we will say, to his servant, to his landlady, to his tailor. These are plain ordinary debts, money owed for value received. His servant has served him, his landlady has lodged and fed him, his tailor has clothed him. They are all poor people who need the money, people whom he agreed to pay when he engaged their services.

But also this gentleman owes money he lost at cards. This gambling debt is called a debt of honor—why, it is difficult to see. The reply is prompt, the explanation being that the law backs up the first creditors; they can collect by process of law, but that the gambling creditor has no legal recognition—cannot collect by process of law—and therefore payment is a "matter of honor."

To a woman, still lacking in that nice sense above mentioned, even this explanation lacks weight. Of course the law does not recognize gambling debts—why should it? For once the law shows sense. These are not sums of money owed for value received—no value has been received. This gentleman merely said: "If this card comes up red," or "if the dice throws six," or some such utterly immaterial thing happens, "I'll give you so much money." Foolish man! Why should he? The other man gave him nothing; there was no sense in the transaction.

"But," he insists, "I have to do it because I don't have to do it—don't you see? The law cannot make me—therefore I must." The mystery remains. Suppose he merely didn't—what would happen? This terrible penalty—they wouldn't play with him any more!

O tears of infancy! Could there be a stranger result of this strange code, that debts owed to poor people who have fulfilled their side of the agreement, who have given their goods and services, debts which hold first claim by every dictate of "common honesty" should be thus ignored in favor of "debts of honor," debts for which nothing tangible was received by the person or persons who incurred the debt?

A SONG.

God Bless you, dear!
May each new dawning morning
Love's gladness bring to glorify the day;
And when the night comes, with stars the sky adorning,
May love's bright star shine on your head alway.
God Bless you, dear!

God Bless you, dear!
May every cloud of sorrow
Be arched o'er with love's all radiant bow;
And if grief's tears rain on some dark tomorrow,
May love's flower garden all the richer grow,
O'er pathways seen or hidden,
God Bless you, dear!

God Bless you, dear!
May love's sure hand forever
guide your way.
And should to separate ways our lives be bidden,
My love be yours forever and for aye,
God Bless you, dear!

HERE IN GOOD NEWS

FOR STOMACH VICTIMS

Some very remarkable results are being obtained by treating stomach, liver and intestinal troubles with pure vegetable oils, which exert a cleansing, soothing and purifying action upon the lower bowels, removing the obstructions of poisonous fecal matter and gases and preventing their absorption by the blood. This done, the food is allowed free passage from the stomach, fermentation ceases and stomach troubles quickly disappear.

George H. Mayr, for twenty years a leading Chicago druggist, cured himself and many of his friends of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles of years' standing by this treatment, and so successful was the remedy he devised that it has since been placed in the hands of druggists all over the country, who have sold thousands of bottles.

Though absolutely harmless, the effect of the medicine is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable effectiveness, and with in 24 hours the sufferer feels like a new man. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by W. L. ...

Tuesday Book Club Entertained—

The members of the Tuesday Book Club were charmingly entertained this morning by Mrs. J. W. Grant, at her home on North Foster Street.

The palatial home was adorned with vases of roses and red chrysanthemums. At noon a delicious salad course with hot coffee was served. The members of this delightful club are Mrs. Robert Boyd, Mrs. D. C. Carmichael, Mrs. E. J. Jones, Mrs. H. C. Calvin, Mrs. R. D. Crawford, Mrs. W. R. Flowers, Mrs. John Flowers, Mrs. N. H. McCallum, Mrs. J. R. Young, Mrs. R. H. Parker and Mrs. E. F. Moody.

Original Gowns At This Wedding—

American-designed gowns were worn at a recent New York wedding. The tones of the bride's dress were autumn brown and chrysanthemum yellow, and the bodice was cut in a smart coat effect, says the New York Times. This coat was of autumn brown velvet, and was brought down low to form a deep girdle well down over the hips and quite close fitting. In front the bodice, which was rather plain in a general smart effect was fastened with bunches of brown and yellow chrysanthemums and autumn leaves in the brown and bronze autumn tints.

Extremely frill-fron skirts of yellow tulle chrysanthemum tones that has the clarity of a pure corn tint floated from the plain tailored coat. The skirts were two, one about the other, so as to divide the sweep of the skirt almost equally in two parts. They were made over a slip of yellow satin and they were quite plain in the frill-fron fullness and very short. The low girdle which came over the top of the skirt held the tulle flat.

The sleeves were of the tulle, long and close fitting and the upper part of the bodice was finished with a tulle chemisette gathered at the throat with a gold cord.

Miss Thelie Johnson left this morning for Montgomery for a short visit before returning to her home in Opelika.

Picture of Mrs. Fritter—

Today's Montgomery Advertiser contains a splendid picture of Mrs. W. C. Fritter, the gifted Dothan woman, who is auditor of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs. The Advertiser's society editor very truly says: "Mrs. Fritter is a woman of brilliant intellect and exceptional charm of manner." She is in attendance upon the annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs now in session in Montgomery.

Shelly Price of Lawrenceville is visiting in Dothan.

COUNCIL AND MAYOR WRANGLE OVER WHO SHALL BE ACTING FIRE CHIEF OF THIS CITY

of the most remarkable situations ever known in municipal affairs in Alabama. The situation is replete with double-crossing and has so many angles that the full import of the wrangle is hard to grasp at hand.

Trouble began when I. C. Ezell, a well known tailor and chairman of the Fire Committee, notified Fire Chief J. E. Ziglar about a week ago that his services were not needed, and that he could look for another position instantly. The Chairman of the Fire Committee then appointed Joe Rollins, a regular member of the Department, as temporary fire chief.

Ziglar Reinstated.

The City Council met Monday night and undid the work of the chairman of the Fire Committee, re-instating Ziglar as chief. Just a few minutes after this action the Fire Department made a run to North Oates street, but there was no fire. Rollins acted as chief. Ziglar was or had been upstairs in the Council Chamber.

Firemen Walk Out.

After the Council meeting all the firemen walked out on a strike, declaring they would not work under Ziglar, who had been reinstated by the Council. Mayor Joe Baker then took the situation in hand, and told Joe Rollins to hold the station with his force of men.

It was reported this morning that the firemen walked out last night after a conference with Mayor Joe Baker and President of the Council A. D. Whiddon, but at the meeting of the Council this morning, both of these men denied having anything to do with causing the strike. They asserted that they used their influence in trying to keep the fire fighters on the job.

Firemen are Fired.

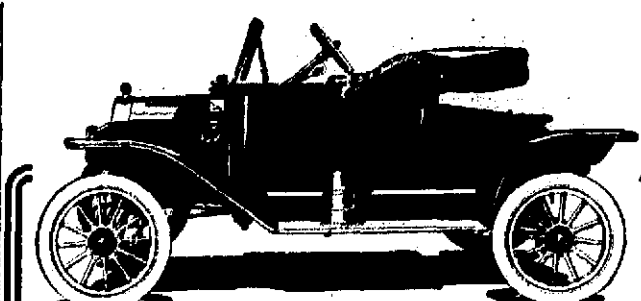

The Council met in called session Tuesday morning, and the resignation of Joe Rollins as acting chief was read and accepted. Alderman J. W. Grant then offered a motion asking for the resignation of the entire fire department, which was passed. The firemen were called in to the Council Chamber, and accepted the result without question. Alderman Grant offered another resolution that the fire department be turned over to J. E. Ziglar, and that the chief of police be instructed to obtain the keys to the station, and give them to Ziglar, this resolution being adopted. It was also ordered that Ziglar proceed to engage the necessary firemen needed at the station.

Mayor Instructs Rollins.

Within ten minutes after these proceedings, Ziglar went downstairs in the station, and asked several spectators to remain on the scene, saying that he was going to crank off the automobile truck in a few minutes, and that he wanted witnesses to this act. Before Ziglar had carried out these plans, he was met near the station door by Mayor Joe Baker, who said in substance: "Ziglar, if you have any property in here, get it out, and get off these premises. Mr. Chief of Police, see that these orders are carried out."

In the meantime the mayor had given instructions to Joe Rollins, saying in substance: "Joe, get your men and hold the fort." At this hour, 11:55, Tuesday morning, Joe and his men are holding the fort.

Members of the City Council, it is said, are seeking legal advice, and a bitter fight is expected before the matter is adjusted.

A WORD OF EXPLANATION

By CLEM EZELL.

When the new Council went into office, and the committees were appointed the chairmanship of the Fire Committee fell to my lot. I immediately set about to see if we could bring our fire department up to a desired standard, as we all know that we have been lacking in that department, without criticism to our previous committee, as we did the best possible under the circumstances.

It was not my purpose to discharge anyone at all, but recently it became necessary as I thought after discussing the matter with Mr. Martin, he being the only member of my committee in the city, also the Mayor, and numerous private citizens, that there was just and righteous causes for the removal of Mr. Ziglar as fire chief, and those reasons were stated to the council, and it saw fit to rescind the action of the committee, for reasons best known to themselves.

Now, the very fact that Mr. Rollins is my brother-in-law, made me hesitate to place him in charge, but the fact was brought to my attention, that he was a member of the department, some two years before my election on the council, and that fact should not blame me, in placing him in charge temporarily, until the committee, or the council could secure a suitable man, for the place, although the age of Mr. Rollins was the only stated objection, everyone seeming to agree that he was the best man we had.

As to his resignation, last night, he stated that he could not work under the insults of Mr. Ziglar, and that the members of the department went out with him, stating they could not, or would not, work under Chief Ziglar. I have nothing to do, or no knowledge of their intentions. Together with the Mayor and President of the Council Whiddon, we sent Mr. Ziglar home, and placing the department back at work until some action could be taken by the council, thinking this for the best interests of the city. I have and will continue to work for what I think is best, for the city, and can say there is no animosity in my heart, and trust our little differences will work out safely, and every one be happy over the result.

Very respectfully,

CLEM EZELL.

Who Is The City Health Officer?

Who is the City Health Officer of Dothan? The writer does not know. Does the City Council know? Well, ask them.

At a meeting of the Council last night a letter was read from the county medical society saying that they had recommended Dr. T. M. Barnett for the position during the years 1914 and 1915. Position was taken by the Council that the term of office of Dr. Barnett expired with the passing of the old Council. In the meantime, Mayor Joe Baker has appointed Dr. M. S. Stough as temporary health officer. This action was ratified.

"Ah, my poor man," said the benevolent old lady. "I suppose you are often pinched by want and hunger, are you not?"

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The Easiest and Best Way Is to Dissolve It.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.
